STANLEY IN PARIS.

An Escaping Convict Killed.

A TOUGH CRIMINAL HANGED.

The King of Dahomey Continues to Burn Villages.

What Windom Says About the Amount of Circulating Medium.

Congressional Matters.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Enloe of Tennessee, rising to a question of personal privilege, had read an article from a New York paper declaring that a gigantic job had been discovered in the Southern war claims bill introduced by Hitt. The article states that Thomas of Wisconsin, Chairman of the Committee on War Claims, had denounced the bill as one of the most infamous jobs which had ever been foisted upon Congress.

Thomas said that he had not censured any member of the committee. He had stated that if the bill passed, it would be infamous, because he could prove that a number of the claims of the bill were claims of persons notably disloyal.

Enloe said the charge in the article that he had brought the bill before the House in a surreptitious manner was a falsehood.

Thomas reiterated his statement that a number of the claims in the bill were those of disloyal persons and that a number of them had never been examined by the committee.

Butterworth moved that the House go into Committee of the Whole for the consideration of the legislative appropriation bill, but the friends of the private calendar mustered a sufficient force to defeat the motion—yeas 112, nays 116.

The Court of Claims bill was the first on the calendar, and Thomas of Wisconsin offered a resolution that the bill be reported to the House, with the recommendation that it be recommitted, with instructions to the Committee on War Claims to inquire into the loyalty of each claimant.

Lawler of Illinois presented a protest of the Hardware Association of the United States against the proposed duty on cutlery and guns. Referred.

Henderson of Illinois reported the river and harbor bill. Referred to the Committee of the Whole on the private calendar.

The Senate Republican Silver Committee held a meeting this morning, at which Secretary Windom said the reason for his advocating a redemption in bullion of the certificates issued for the purchase of bullion, was that it would make the certificates more valuable. To require their redemption in silver dollars would be, in his opinion, to discredit them, while to require their redemption in gold coin might seriously embarrass the Government. He was willing, however, as a measure of compromise, to give the holder of certificates an option on the currency on which it should be redeemed. After the Secretary had given his views upon the bill and the basis for them, a discussion took place upon the subject of sufficiency of circulation. Secretary Windom had stated to the committee that the total circulation was $1,426,000,000, an average of $27.70 per capita on a basis of 65,000,000 population. Actually, however, that sum is subject to diminution, by the amounts held up in various ways, reserves held for redemption of notes, etc., so that the per capita amount of circulation was considerably less. The Secretary agreed with the Senators, as he had with the Representatives, that an addition to the circulation is necessary, but in the conference to day no definite sum was named.

Platt, by request, introduced a bill for the admission of New Mexico, and said he did not, in doing so, want to commit himself one way or the other. Referred.

Hawley tried to call up the World's Fair bill, urging the importance of speedy action, but on the motion of Dolph, the Senate went into executive session.

Unable to Agree.
By Cable and Associated Press.]
LONDON, April 18.—The jury in the case of Sir George Elliott, sued by Mrs. Alice Hairs, a widow, for breach of promise and seduction, was unable to agree, and were discharged.

A Pretty High Figure.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Porter of Chicago, who has extensive fruit interests in California, and who has just returned from there, says: "California will probably appropriate $1,000,000 for her exhibit at the World's Fair. At least, Governor Waterman says he will favor the appropriation of such an amount, and it seems safe to suppose he echoes the general sentiment of his State. The fruit interests of California will raise $1,000,000 for the exhibits, and the growers in the southern part of the State will ask for several acres of space in which to lay out a grove of orange and lemon trees, which will bloom and bear fruit during the hot months of the Fair."

Defrauded Catholic Knights.

BRAZIL, Ind., April 17.—Thomas Kerins, an ex-Councilman and a saloon-keeper, has been arrested, charged with embezzlement. He was Secretary, Treasurer and President of a lodge of Catholic Knights of America. Considerable fees, both insurance and membership, were paid to Kerins, who failed to forward them to the Grand Lodge. The lodge forfeited its charter some time ago, a fact Kerins kept to himself, though he continued to receipt for fees. The embezzlement will deprive property holders of several thousands of dollars. Kerins was jailed.

An Escaping Prisoner Killed.

FOLSOM, Cal., April 17.—To-day at noon a convict named Chas. Weber, who was serving a ten-years' sentence, attempted to escape by swimming the American river. About fifteen shots were fired at him, and when he had reached the middle of the stream he was shot through the head and instantly killed. The body sunk and has not been recovered. Warden Aull and Judge Hunt of San Francisco were standing near the dam when Weber attempted to escape and saw him when he was killed.

A Long Criminal Record.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 18.—Ben Elsey (colored) was hanged this afternoon. His neck was broken. Elsey was executed for the murder of J. W. Meadows a railroad conductor, in January, 1889. In addition to this he murdered and robbed an old farmer and his wife in Douglas county, Ga., five years ago. He shot a policeman in Atlanta, and in December, 1888, robbed and murdered an Italian peddler near this city.

A Brute Found Guilty.

PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—Henry W. King, ex-Prefect of the State institution for the blind, on trial for two days past charged with immoral practices with blind boys in that institution, the exposure of whose conduct created such a sensation, was to-day found guilty.

Stanley's Arrival—The Warlike Dahomians.

PARIS, April 18.—Stanley has arrived from Cannes.

Advices from Lagos state that the King of Dahomey, with his army, is encamped near Porto Novo. The Dahomians burned eight villages and caused a panic in that district.

Appeal Dismissed.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The General Term to-day dismissed the appeal of Dilworth Choate, the reporter, now in Ludlow street jail for contempt of court in concealing himself in a jury room where the Flack jurors were deliberating. He will have to complete his sentence.

No Word From Farrell.

ST. LOUIS, April 18.—The Executive Committee of the Irish Land League, not having heard from Farrell in regard to the advisability of holding National Conventions, adjourned at noon.

Will Probably Be Settled.

PITTSBURG, April 18.—As a result of a conference to-day it is said by the leading men of both sides that the difficulty will probably be settled without a strike.

Stanley Highly Honored.

Arrested for Mail Robbery.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 18.—Abraham Bogatidis, Superintendent of Mails, was arrested to-day, charged with robbing the mails.

A Derailed Train.

BERLIN, April 18.—A train was thrown from the track in the Werbig depot. One person was killed and sixteen injured.

Four Men Drowned.

QUEBEC, April 18.—The schooner Annie May, lost on Wednesday at Codroy, lost her Captain and three men.

Kentucky Outlaws.

LOUISVILLE, April 18.—A special to the Times from Harlan Court-house says: A deadly fight occurred this morning at 1:30 o'clock seventeen miles east of here, up in the Black Mountains, between a detail of State troops, consisting of sixteen privates, Lieutenant Milton and Sergeant Pullian, and about thirty outlaws, who were fortified in an old barn. Five of the soldiers were wounded. It is not known how many of the outlaws were killed, as they still have possession of the barn.

Corporal Blantin was sent in after reinforcements, and knows but little, as he left immediately after the firing began. The troops had the barn surrounded, and it will be impossible for those on the inside to make their escape.

Yesterday afternoon Captain Gaithe, who is the commanding officer, was informed that a body of lawless men, some of whom had been indicted for various offences, were in the above-mentioned locality, and had refused to surrender to the authorities. He was asked for a detail of men for the purpose of arresting them. His men left camp yesterday afternoon, expecting to find the men they were pursuing in a private house about 600 yards beyond the barn from which they were fired upon.

The attack was not looked for at that point, and was so unexpected that it demoralized the soldiers for a moment or two, but they soon rallied, surrounded the barn and began firing into it from every direction, when it was thought best to cease action and hold the fort until reinforcements arrived with more ammunition. It is believed a severe fight will take place as soon as additional troops reach the place, for the outlaws are fortified, well armed with Winchester rifles, and swear that they will not surrender, and the soldiers are determined, and want revenge for those who have been shot down.

Union League Club.

NEW YORK, April 17.—A fierce fight is expected at the next meeting of the Union League Club between members who wish to make the club a social affair and those who would extend it on a Republican basis. The club was established on strictly party lines at a time when the life of the Nation was at stake. Some of the younger members, who naturally have no recollection of the rebellion, would make the club social rather than political. With but few known exceptions, all the strongest and best-known members are against changing from a political to a strictly social organization. A lot of Mugwumps and Democrats who have gotten into the club have been treated with so much indulgence that they have begun to think they can run the organization to suit themselves.

Imported Labor.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Among the witnesses heard by the Congressional sub-committee on Immigration yesterday was Master Workman Powderly. He was of the opinion that foreign labor was on the increase in this country. These foreigners work in mines and on railroads at starvation wages and live like animals in wooden sheds. The general tendency of such immigration was to degrade labor and morals. Scarcely any of them speak English. Unsuccessful attempts have been made to organize them. "It is of frequent occurrence," said Powderly, "for one woman to live with forty men. We are sending missionaries to Africa, and yet import heathens by the thousands."

A New Feature.

PITTSBURG, April 18.—A new feature of the strike situation is the probability of a strike of the street railway employees at the same time the other railroad employees go out. They are considering the advisability of making a simultaneous demand for higher wages.

Deserves a Halter.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., April 17.—The debts of the absconding lawyer Sheltenberger, so far as known, are over $100,000. To one farmer he gave what purported to be a receipt for money paid, but which turned out to be a promissory note, which the man in his ignorance indorsed, and for which he is now held liable. He has it stated, stolen the money belonging to the estate of his wife and children, and his own and his wife's relatives are among the sufferers by his misdoings.

Admitted to Canada.

NIAGARA FALLS, April 18.—The Chinaman who was hemmed in on the suspension bridge yesterday was admitted to Canada last night, and immediately left for parts unknown.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

"ZIG-ZAG."

A Medley of Oddities and Anecdotes—Tip-Top Dancing. The Enterprise says: "Zig-Zag" is what is called a skit. It pretends to no merit as a play, nor does it claim any great amount of originality in the comical situations. It is simply the excuse for a variety combination to exhibit their specialties. It is, however, so cleverly arranged that the amusement is there, and the laugh comes in regardless of critical judgment. It is all very silly, of course, but the members of the company go ahead with their absurd and sometimes astonishing contortions, and it is funny at its silliest.

Miss Kemble is a good dancer, and is both sprightly and as natural as the necessarily impossible character she assumes will permit.

All the men are good dancers—some of them very good—and two or three of them are immense in the combination of step dancing and tumbling.

BREVITIES.

The jury in the case of J. M. Campbell of the Enterprise, for publishing a lottery advertisement, failed to agree.

To-day's 10:05 east-bound express was four and a half hours late, and the V. & T. express was held until its arrival.

M. J. Smith, one of the men who helped to stake out the town site of Reno, and who for several years has been located at San Francisco and Oakland, arrived from below on to-day's delayed train.

Continental Lifting Stick.

English thieves are using a contrivance looking like an ordinary walking stick, but which is so arranged that by pressing a spring at the handle the ferrule will spring apart and form a sort of spring clip that will take hold of anything that is within reach. The thing is called the "Continental lifting-stick," and is used to take goods from behind counters when the shopman's back is turned.

Translated into German.

Emperor William still retains the French cooks that ruled the kitchen of the imperial palace under his late grandfather, but he positively refuses to allow their French bills of fare to be put before him. The cooks draw up the day's list of dishes under their French names, and these are translated into German for his Majesty's table.

England's Warships.

In the event of a European outbreak, Great Britain would be able to send to sea at a month's notice 44 modern battle-ships and belted cruisers to cope, in case of necessity, with France's 22, Russia's 15, Germany's 12, or Italy's 10; so that no possible combination of any two of the great powers would place England at a disadvantage.

5 O'CLOCK EDITION.

THE following letter, written by C. P. Huntington to Senator Stanford, was made public at a meeting of the Directors held last evening. The letter shows, if it shows anything, that Huntington has a thorn in his side that it is hard work to pull out. It is a sort of a left-handed apology, full of innuendoes, and is decidedly a weak production to emanate from Huntington's brain:

SOUTHERN PACIFIC COMPANY,
EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
SAN FRANCISCO, APRIL 15, 1890.
Dear Governor:—So many items mentioning your name and mine have lately appeared in the daily papers that some of our friends think it would be well for me to write you a letter, hence this communication. Although I do not apprehend any danger that you and I will be put in an hostile attitude in our business or for that matter personal relations, but the intervention of others who do not altogether understand our difference may tend to separate our friends. Our views when at variance have been freely expressed, and it is needless to allude to them further than to say that we have each of us agreed to disagree. The remarks that I recently made at the Southern Pacific Board meeting were intended only as a reasonable expression of my views upon these subjects. My words, and especially the phrase which related to campaign uses of the company's funds, or as I expressed it, "Putting hands into the treasury of the company to defeat the people's choice," have been construed in some quarters as a personal attack on you. Allow me to say that I greatly regret this impression since I did not intend to make such an attack or to charge that you had used the company's money to advance your personal interest, or in any improper manner, and I am satisfied that you have not done so. Allow me also to express the wish that our relations may continue as friendly hereafter as they have been heretofore. Yours very truly,
C. P. HUNTINGTON.

Mr. MILLS of Texas in speaking of the late Samuel J. Randall says except for Mr. Randall's views on the tariff question he would have been nominated for President in 1876; that he would have been elected and seated, for he would have asserted his rights. It seems impossible, says the Salt Lake Tribune, for a certain class of men to even pay a tribute to a dead statesman, without ringing in some partisan meanness, and in some remote way referring to that campaign of 1876. Mr. Mills neglects to say that if Mr. Randall had been nominated there would have been no cipher dispatches; no attempts to either steal or purchase electoral votes; no attempts through petty technicalities to defeat the law and the will of the people in three or four or five sovereign States, and that therefore Mr. Randall would have failed by at least fifteen or twenty of having votes enough in the Electoral College to secure an election, and hence he would not have been seated, and Mr. Mills' late exordium is simply "flap-doodle." Mr. Mills is a very good man, but when he comes to die his most ardent admirer will not rate him as a great man, except through courtesy. If any friend of his puts him in that category, the proper thing to do will be to let it pass as an obituary notice and not demand of him the proofs.

SOME steps should be taken by this community to see that the gates of the Tahoe dam are closed, and perhaps it would be reached better through a public meeting than in any other way. The lake has risen only thirty-one inches this season and the dam at the outlet will raise it forty more if the gates are kept closed. With the lake full we can have a surplus to draw from next season if it is not needed this, and it should most certainly be attended to at once. If the spring floods are allowed to run to waste there is no telling when the opportunity to fill the lake will come again. It is certainly of vital interest to the farmers, and they should see to it that the matter is attended to.

GROVER CLEVELAND is now working in a hygienic treadmill to get rid of his surplus fat. He will need to be in prime condition to make the running in 1892, handicapped as he will be by a four years' record of cheap talk, sensational politics and diplomatic failure. The Bulletin says that some of his supporters ought to be in a different kind of treadmill.

THE gold-bugs of the East and in London evidently think some silver measure is about to pass Congress, and they want to get in. Silver has advanced several points within the past week, closing today at 102.

THE Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle (Democratic) of a recent date says: "In our view the Democratic party was defeated in the last election because we declared against the protective policy, and it is our opinion that we shall continue to be defeated so long as we antagonize the manufacturing interests of the country. It will be a disastrous day to the whole country, and the South especially, when the home market, which is the most profitable in the world, is thrown open to foreign competition. The happiness of the people of all classes, the conservation of all interests, and the future welfare of our country demand that our economic policy should not be rudely disturbed to give place to theories or experiments at least of doubtful expediency. As citizens of a common country, as the inheritors of an individual freedom and personal and political liberty under the most perfect form of government the world has ever known, we should set our faces forever against the ignis fatuus of free trade or a non-protective tariff."

NEWS NOTES.

The Washington City and Georgetown cable road has been completed. A milk-white deer was shot recently near Mount Katahdin, in Maine. Objection is made to teaching convicts type setting in New York prisons. It is predicted that the International Copyright bill will be passed by the present Congress. A new road, to be as nearly as possible an air line, will be built from Toledo to Chicago. The electric lighting companies have raised their prices for lighting the streets of New York. Baltimore is soon to have two new grain elevators, one to cost $300,000, and the other $150,000. A Chicago hotel furnishes a sharp razor to those of its guests who desire to shave themselves. The new Australian Election law has been declared unconstitutional by an Indiana Circuit Court. The Poorhouse of Cook county, Ill., numbers among its inmates fifty veterans of the War for the Union. Over thirteen thousand plants were distributed to Sunday school children at their Easter festivals in Boston. A deed has been drawn up for the purchase of land for a naval station at Pago Pago Harbor, Samoan Islands. The bill giving married women absolute control of their wages passed both Houses of the Kentucky Legislature. By a decision of the Virginia Supreme Court of appeals a Virginian's daughter by a colored woman got $10,000 worth of property. Glucose manufacturers are disturbed because a bill has been introduced in Congress to prevent the use of glucose in the manufacture of beer. The Senate Committee of Commerce has ordered a favorable report on the bill to continue work on harbor improvements, including $700,000 for Baltimore.

A Necessity of Health. It is a prime necessity of health that the action of the bowels should be kept regular. But the way to overcome a temporary fit of constipation, or to remedy chronic costiveness, is not to deluge the stomach with drenches of the bowels with purgatives of violent and painful action. The happy medium is in an invigorating and violent cathartic in Hilder's Stomach Bitters, which acts just sufficiently upon the bowels to relax them, without pain, and which, being a wholesome tonic, as well as a purgative, has the effect of strengthening both them and the stomach, and promoting the well-being of the whole internal economy.

The removal of bile from the blood, increased activity of the liver, usually dormant in cases of costiveness, and invigorated by the use of this beneficent medicine, is a thoroughly and gentle in its effects as it is safe and pure in composition. Rheumatism, fever and ague, kidney troubles and debility are also remedied by it.

On a recent visit to Iowa, Mr. K Dalton of Luray, Russell Co., Kansas, called at the laboratory of Chamberlain & Co., Des Moines, to show them his six year old boy, whose life has been saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy; it having cured him of a very severe attack of croup. Mr. Dalton is certain that it saved his boy's life and is enthusiastic in his praise of the Remedy. He says it has an excellent reputation in his vicinity; that farmers come fifteen miles to his store for it and that many of them, like himself, are never without it in their homes. For sale by Shoemaker & Co.

The Pulpit and the Stage. Rev. F. M. Shattuck, United Brethren Church, Blue Mound, Kansas, says: "I feel it my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My lungs were badly diseased and my parishioners thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery and am sound and well, gaining 26 pounds in weight."

Arthur Love, Manager Love's Funny Folks Combination, writes: "After a thorough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption beats 'em all, and cures when everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do my many thousands of friends is to use them the best of health and vitality. Dr. King's New Discovery. Regular sizes 50c and $1."

Liver Complaint—Biliousness. The chief symptoms of this disease are depression of spirits, foul coated tongue, bad tasting mouth, disagreeable breath, dry skin, with blotches and eruptions, slow complexion, and yellow eyes, tired, aching shoulders, dull pain in right side, faintness, dizziness and irregular bowels. This complaint is in all of its forms can be readily cured by taking Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills as directed, and a lingering spell of sickness will often be warded off by their use. Sold at 25c a box by S. J. Hodgkinson.

Epilepsy. The transition from long, lingering and painful sickness to robust health marks an epoch in the life of the individual. Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory and the agency whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so much is heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel they owe their restoration to health to the use of Dr. Great Alternative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of the Kidneys or Liver or Stomach, of long or short standing, you will surely find relief by the use of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50c and $1 per bottle at W. F. Pinner's drug store.

Mr. B. F. Masters, Cashier of Emmit & Co.'s Bank at Waverly, Ohio, says: "I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best I have ever used. After using several other kinds, without benefit, I tried it and it quickly cured me, after years of suffering with an obstinate cough and throat trouble." 50 cent bottles for sale by Shoemaker & Co.

A Sure Cure for Piles. Itching Piles are known by moisture, like perspiration causing intense itching when warm. This form, as well as blind, bleeding and protruding, yield at once to Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly on the parts affected, absorbs tumors, drains itching and effects a permanent cure. See Druggists or mail, free trial free. Dr. Bosanko, Piles, O. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson.

THE PIUTE INDIANS.

Most of Their Big Men Have Passed Away.

Johnson Sides informs the GAZETTE that about a thousand Piutes participated in the recent dance near Wadsworth, and that a very happy time was had. After the dance was over a full carload of provisions was received by Indian Agent Sears, and hauled to the Reservation by twelve Indian teams. Johnson gave this reporter the names of all prominent Piutes who have died since this country has been settled by the whites, as follows: Young Winnemucca, at Wadsworth, about 20 years ago; Captain Charley died at Wellington, Esmeralda county, about the same time; Old Winnemucca died six or seven years ago at Surprise Valley, and George Queep died at the Pyramid Reservation about three months ago. All the above were men of prominence in the Piute tribe, and with the exception of Captain Dave, Humboldt Naches and Captain Sam, comprised all the celebrities of that people. Johnson says he wants all Indians to go to work and quit talking so much, and that he will do it in his power to help them.

FIGHTING FOR WATER.

The Elko Independent says relative to the coming water fight in the case of P. N. Marker et al. vs. The Farmers of Elko: "The Executive Committee appointed last Saturday have completed their labors, made the assessment, appointed collectors, notified each one of his proportion of the expense, and employed attorneys. So far as known the people respond cheerfully to the call for coin, and when it is considered that this is the people's fight, and that what is to the interest of one is of importance to all, it can readily be seen that not only the water claimants, but every man engaged in business in the county, are interested in maintaining the rights of our citizens, as the welfare of every branch of business depends on the prosperity of the people."

The Deadly Trichina.

The Virginia Chronicle says: S. Dowling has in his assay office on North C street specimens of the deadly parasites found in pork, known as trichina. The specimens are magnified to several thousand times their normal size through the lens of a powerful microscope, and resemble worms or snakes, with scale-like bodies of a yellow hue, about the size of No. 8 wire, and probably an inch and a half in length were they stretched out in a straight line. The bodies of the repulsive parasites are coiled with the head and tail slightly lopping, and the similarity of the coils of all the specimens is surprising.

Death of a Pioneer.

Yesterday, at Carson, Jacob Tobriner, an old-time resident of that city, passed away after a short but severe illness. Mr. Tobriner's name is associated with everything tending to the advancement of that city and he will be greatly missed by the entire community. He was Treasurer of Ormsby county, a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity and a gentleman held in high esteem by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance, and in Nevada his name is legion. He leaves an interesting family consisting of a wife and several children, to whom the GAZETTE extends its sympathy.

CLEVELAND'S PARTY ENEMIES.

A New York correspondent of the San Francisco News-Letter writes as follows: That Mrs. Cleveland is a remarkable woman is everywhere conceded, and she is one of the most popular in this great city. Singularly, she is as great a favorite with her own sex as with the men, attracting her sisters and holding their love, respect and esteem, without exciting envy or jealousy. There are, however, some of the enemies of Mr. Cleveland whom this charming and talented woman has not been able to placate. One of the most dangerous of these is the embittered Charles D. Dana, whose Sun does not permit a day to pass without scorching the ex-President. Another is the young and brilliant editor of the World. Still another is Edward S. Stokes, of the Hoffman House Cafe of Jim Fiske fame. There is, also, last but not least, one David B. Hill (and his mighty following) who has not been brought under the enchanting influence of this charming woman. All of these are open anti-Cleveland men, and they are of sufficient importance, politically considered, to defeat the further aspirations of "the Man of Destiny."

The Auburn (Cal.) Budget says: Last spring Isaac Gammel of Bakersfield cut a twig from a fig tree and stuck it in the ground, that it might grow him another tree. It at once took root, and is now bearing fruit. This will seem incredible to those unacquainted with this climate. The propagation of such a fact will go further towards inducing immigration than a bookful of fine-sounding theories about what may possibly be accomplished with such a climate, soil and water supply as we have. Farmers, let us have your experience.

Crop-Destroying Insects.

Seventy-five per cent. of the whole crop in many counties in Texas has been destroyed by insects. One of these creatures is similar to the North-east chinch bug, and the other is the common lady-bug—not the same species as the aristocratic lady-bug that is exterminating pests in the orange and olive groves of California.

Major Ducat to Leave Reno.

The following, in substance, was placed on the bulletin board of the State University to-day: "At his own request, Major Ducat has been recalled from the Nevada State University in Arizona. He will leave on June 12th."

Horse-Cars to Go.

St. Louis will have seven lines of street-railway and ninety-two miles of track equipped with electric power as soon as the work can be done. By January 1, 1891, says the Globe-Democrat, there will not be a horse-car in operation in St. Louis. All the cars will then be moved by electric force or by cables.

First Ohio Vote in Ten Years.

Cal. S. Brice of New York, the new United States Senator from Ohio, voted at Lima, Ohio, last Monday week, the first time for over ten years! It is also interesting to note that Lima gave a good Republican majority.

GIVE THE BOYS TRADES.

It is a significant fact that out of the 1,000 prisoners in the Eastern Penitentiary of Pennsylvania only 19 are mechanics. This is a strong argument in favor of mechanics as an elevator of public morals.

The percentage of men engaged in mechanical pursuits to the entire male population is large, yet there are less than 2 per cent. of the persons in this institution, and the proportion is said to be about the same in others, who are mechanics by training.

Instead of trying to impress upon them the repeated saying of Horace Greeley, "Go West, young man," it might be well to advise more of them to learn trades as a prevention of crime and immorality.

For the above reason, and from the further fact of the organized efforts to limit the employment of apprentices, the Scientific American suggests the establishment of private and public industrial schools where boys may be taught trades—such as carpentering, brick and stone masonry, molding and all branches of ironwork, etc.

There can be no question but that not only mechanical employment, but all kinds of labor, both manual and mental, lessen both crime and sickness. Let, then, give the boys a chance to earn an honest living, even though it be largely at public expense.

California Cotton.

The Contra Costa, Cal., Gazette says: L. I. Fish has placed upon our table two specimens of cotton raised on his place in Martinez. One is the long staple Sea Island variety and the other the upland. Both are well matured and up to the commercial standard.

To obtain the best results a warm, moist soil is required. Mr. Fish can furnish a small quantity of seed to those wishing to experiment with this plant.

For Women and Children.

Denver, Col., has an incorporated stock company of women who have undertaken the development of a summer resort at Diana Park, forty miles from that city. It is designed especially for the comfort of women, children and families.

USEFUL INFORMATION.

Tibbery Fox, M. D., the eminent medical writer, in his work "Skin Diseases," thus accounts for the pimples so common to the face and neck. Eating too rich or too greasy food, or too hearty eating while the excretory organs are sluggish, causes in most people indigestion or a deranged condition, which causes the blood to move sluggishly, and encloses the pores. The result is, that the exuding secretions block in the pores, which inflame, each distinct inflammation being a pimple. Dr. Fox therefore does not prescribe "blood purifiers" as called, but a "dyspepsia cure" to be taken, to use his own words "till the dyspepsial symptoms have disappeared." The old idea was, that face eruptions were caused by a "humor in the blood," for which they treated the blood, giving the mineral, potash. Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla follows the modern ideas of Dr. Fox, and aims to be taken, to use his own words "till the dyspepsial symptoms have disappeared." A Pioneer's Experience With Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I am a pioneer in this country, having been here 20 years. Four years ago my little son Elmer became blood-poisoned by impure virus in vaccination. His arm swelled terribly, causing great agony; physicians said the arm must be amputated, and even then his recovery would be doubtful. One day I read about a blood purifier, new to me, and was surprised to learn that it was prepared by C. I. Hood, with whom I used to go to school in Chelsea, Vt. I decided to have my boy try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and was much gratified when it seemed to help him. He continued to grow better as we gave him the Sarsaparilla, and having used bottles is now entirely cured. As Hood's Sarsaparilla has accomplished such wonderful results, I recommend it to all possible cases." JEROME M. SLEEPER, Upper Lake, Lake Co., Cal.

The City Treasurer

Of Lowell, Mass., says: "The above is from my brother, whose signature I recognized. I am glad to testify to the excellence of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and to say that C. I. Hood & Co. are considered one of the most reliable firms in New England." VAN R. SLEEPER, City Treasurer, Lowell, Mass.

NO GOOD APACHES.

So Says an Old Mail Carrier Who Knows
All About the Savages.

United States Marshal Hayes, of Los Angeles, Cal., who has lived for a number of years in Arizona, and has had considerable experience with the Apache Indians, says in an interview published in the San Francisco Chronicle: "In 1861 I carried all the mail between Wilmington and Fort Yuma. Indians were thick, and they were almost always on the war-path. The hills were actually alive with them, and no one knew when they would make a descent upon the wagon trains, or with their rifles pick off passing emigrants from some rocky point along the trail.

"For over seven years I was in Arizona, during which time I assisted in burying over thirty people who had been murdered by Apaches. Every one of these had been scalped, and in some cases the bodies had been most shockingly mutilated. The evidence of a struggle was usually observed, and the ground was strewn with rubbish. In 1863 and 1864 I was running the express between Yuma and Tucson, and in those two years some fearful outrages were committed by the savages. At one time I found a whole family dead thirty miles east of Tucson, the mutilated bodies of parents and children all showing that Apaches had done the work.

"A party of twelve miners on the way to Apache Pass was cut off and murdered in cold blood. No one knew their names or from what part of the country they came. All their valuables had been taken and their naked bodies left bleaching in the hot sun. I assisted the party that found them to scarp away sand along the road and bury the poor fellows.

"Colonel McLain was one of the best Indian fighters in Arizona. He is now commandant of the Soldiers' Home at Napa. He knew that a mild policy would not answer, and the Indians learned to fear him. They kept pretty quiet when he was out on one of his scouting expeditions.

"I have had a great deal of experience in Arizona, and am under the impression that there are no good Apaches living. The removal of Geronimo's band to Alabama was a wise one. This talk of bringing them back should not be tolerated. If they are permitted to return it will not be six months before they will be raiding and committing the same depredations that have marked their course in the past. There is a sickly sentiment that calls for the removal of the band from Alabama, where the Indians are said to have become addicted to chills and fever, which are carrying them off. Better let them die than bring them back where they will kill ten men for every brave whose life is saved. The Apaches are the worst Indians in the country, and the sooner the race becomes extinct the better for the rest of the people."

Mr. Hayes carries the mark of a bullet on his scalp where a spent shell struck him after killing two men in line behind him. During the time he was carrying the mails he was often shot at, and the fact that he was not killed outright is a wonder. Cocaine seemed to have a special grudge against Hayes, and more than one occasion sent a bullet after him, but never with sufficiently good aim to leave a mark.

HOME HINTS AND HELPS.

—Tea Bread.—Three eggs, one tablespoonful of sugar, one coffee-cup of flour, two coffee-cups of Indian meal, two and one-half cups of buttermilk, one teaspoonful of soda and one tablespoonful of lard.

—Potting in case of window plants should as a rule be delayed until the plants start into fresh growth, or show plainly that they are suffering in their present pots. Usually about the end of February or in March is the proper time.—Popular Gardening.

—Stuffed Veal.—Take a loin of veal, make a dressing the same as for a turkey, fill the fat with it, and secure firmly on the loin; rub the roast over with salt, pepper and butter, put in a pan with a little hot water, baste frequently, and let cook done. Serve with brown gravy.

—A handsome cushion for books or an album is made by putting two squares of plush or satin desired size and laying between them two layers sheet wadding. About the edge sew a pretty cord or crocheted a pretty edge. These cushions may be made of quilted satin and finished with ornamental patterns.

—Pickled Apples.—Boil firm apples in a pickle made of a pint of sugar to a pint of vinegar until they can be pierced with a fork. Boil only a few apples at a time; remove carefully and pack in a stone jar. When the jar is full pour in enough scalding vinegar to cover them; place a weight on top of them. Spices may be added if desired.—Detroit Free Press.

Buttermilk Biscuit.—Those who remember the "good, old-fashioned" buttermilk biscuit, will find this a trusty recipe. Rub a tablespoonful of butter into a quart of flour, into which a tablespoonful of salt has been sifted. Dissolve an even teaspoonful of soda in a large cup of buttermilk, mix very soft, handle as little as possible, roll out at once, cut into small biscuits, and bake in a quick oven.—Good Housekeeping.

—A handsome slipper case is made in the form of a bath slipper. The foundation is cut from stiff pasteboard, and is about sixteen inches long and wide enough to make it in good proportion. The sole is covered on both sides with copper colored ladies' cloth, and the ramp which forms the pocket for the slipper, is made of the same material in a light shade of blue. The front of this pocket is decorated with an embroidered spray of pink dahlias. It is finished at all the edges with a fancy cord in blue and tinsel, and is suspended by a loop of strong cord, which is concealed by a ribbon bow.—The Home.

FACTS ABOUT CLOTHING.

A Lucid Explanation of Its Relation to the Physical Condition.

The relation of animal heat to health and proper digestion is very close. Good health is never secured except by proper attention to clothing. This should be neither too heavy nor too scanty. The animal heat is too largely retained in the one case and insufficiently held in the other. External cold, in a moderate degree, acts as a sort of stimulant through the nervous system when it comes in contact with an exposed or thinly-clad part of the body.

One of the chief causes of a chill is a sudden evaporation of the perspiration. Another is a sudden arrest of perspiration. These are largely prevented when one is clad in comfortable underclothing. The bracing effect of cold is felt when one is not too thickly clothed, and when, at the same time, the surface heat is in a dangerous excess. Thus the "indiscriminate use of the thick, heavy overcoat" can not be too greatly deprecated. To this may be largely attributed the colds so common in the cold seasons of the year. Warm, thick underclothing and light outer clothing—this should be the habit adopted. It is in the intermittent use of the heavy overcoat that dangers lurk.

This is particularly true in regard to persons of sedentary habits; and such a one should ever be on his guard in this respect. He emerges from a warm breakfast-room clothed in his ordinary winter garments, with probably warm underwear, and over all the heavy ulster or top coat. After a short walk he finds that the sense of warmth he began with is more than maintained. He arrives at his office or place of business, and off goes the overcoat, though the air of the newly opened room may be nearly as cold as that without, and, perhaps, draughty in addition. During the day, perhaps, he travels to and from his business places, moving in only his house clothing. The overcoat is laid aside until closing time reminds him of the journey home. The result is that at times he is too warm and at other times he is chilled through, and he wonders how he has taken cold. The thickness of clothing must be proportioned to the degree of exercise, whether indoors or outdoors. One would not saw wood in an ulster, even on a very cold day. The wise man, however, would put it on when he had finished his job.

Woolen underclothing is the best preventive against colds, catarrhs and perhaps worse diseases due to chills; and this must be regulated according to age, sex, constitution and amount of exercise. Youth has great power of resistance to external cold, and runs many risks and often escapes scot free. But this is but exceptional. The weaker the constitution the more clothing, without being, of course, burdensome. The state of the weather has much to do with the regulation of the clothing, and so, too, the time of day.

At night more clothing is required than in the day-time. The bed-clothing should be sufficient to insure sleep. Certain parts of the body should be covered warmer than others, such as the chest, legs and feet. Thin-soled shoes and cotton stockings on most persons should be avoided, especially by women. Cold or tepid bathing of the chest, throat and feet is an excellent safeguard. Rub until warmth of the skin is secured. More than when overheated from exercise, especially during the sudden changes of a New England climate, the outer clothing should never be suddenly thrown off unless in a warm room. The garment, instead, should be kept on until most of the superabundant animal warmth has disappeared. Neither should the underclothing be changed for thinner as warmer weather approaches until the season for a judicious change has arrived. If one is too warm, put on lighter outer wear. Inactivity requires more clothing than exercise. But every person should endeavor to practice during every day a sufficient amount of exercise to insure a natural amount of bodily heat. This is not saying that the exercise must of necessity be very vigorous or prolonged, and certainly not violent.—Rhode Island State Bulletin.

HUMOROUS.

—In York County, Pa., a party of traps recently emptied a water tank and converted it into a bedroom.

—She (tragically)—"Take back the heart that thou gavest." He—"Never mind the heart—just fork over that diamond ring."—Epoch.

—She came into the theater, and And down she proudly said: Then totted forth the orchestra: "Where did you get that hat?" —Washington Star.

—Abdicating the throne—Mrs. Upton Flattie—"Why do you cry, cook?" Bridget (about to be married)—"It's me self that'll soon be no better off than the rest of yez."—Puck.

—Mr. Lookahead—"Does my daughter give you any encouragement, sir?" Mr. Donothing—"Why, yes, she says your business is increasing so that you can soon support us in the style we both like."—Munsey's Weekly.

—Tramp—"Ah, madam, when you say 'ple' you strike a responsive chord in my heart that—" Lady—(interrupting)—"Very well, and now you can proceed to strike another responsive cord in the wood-shed yonder."—Kearney Enterprise.

—He (somewhat suspiciously)—"You say you never loved anybody but me? Hal is that true, Maud?" She—"Harry, your looks terrify me! Have I been too bold in letting you kiss me so much this evening?" He—"No, Maud, but you kiss like an old hand."—Chicago Tribune.

—"Force, gentlemen," said the professor, "and power are not always found in large bodies. Sometimes the smallest things will be more powerful than the great ones. Can you give me an illustration, Mr. Blowntin?" "The ace of trumps, sir," replied the student. Lawrence American.

Doctor—"You see, wife dear, I have pulled my patient through, after all." A very critical case, I can tell you. "Yes, dear hubby; but then you are such an excellent physician! Ah! if I had only known you five years earlier, I feel certain my first husband—Thomas—would have been saved!"—Exchange.

—"Has that yellow-haired dude been around here to-night?" "Not yet, Why, papa, what in the world is the matter? Did you miss your footing on the train?" or—"No, I didn't miss my footing on the train. I undertook to gently remind that dude of yours that he wasn't wanted here, and this is the result. When he comes to-night tell him he can have you, and he can't have you any too quick to suit me. A man who can use his hands like that fellow is protection enough for a dozen women. If he asks for me tell him I've gone to Africa or Camden and won't be back until the marriage has blown over."

THE SIOUX SUN-DANCE.

Lieutenant Schwaka contributes to the Century a curious custom of the Sioux. From this article we quote the following: "When all had assembled and the medicine-men had set the date for the beginning of the great dance dedicated to the sun, the 'sun-pole' was selected. A handsome young pine or fir, forty or fifty feet high, with the straightest and most uniformly tapering trunk that could be found within a reasonable distance, was chosen. The selection is always made by some old woman, generally the oldest one in the camp. If there is any way of determining who leads a number of maidens gayly dressed in the beautiful beaded buckskin gowns they wear on state occasions; the part of the maidens is to strip the tree of its limbs as high as possible without felling it. Woe to the girl who claims to be a maiden and joins the procession the old squaw forms, against whose claims any reputable warrior or squaw may publicly proclaim. Her punishment is swift and sure, and her degradation more cruel than interesting.

"The selection of the tree is the only special feature of the first day's celebration. After it has been stripped of its branches nearly to the top, the brushwood and trees for a considerable distance about it are removed, and it is left standing for the ceremony of the second day.

"Long before sunrise the eager participants in the next great step were preparing themselves for the ordeal; and a quarter of an hour before the sun rose above the broken hills of white clay a long line of naked young warriors, in gorgeous war-paint and feathers, with rifles, bows and arrows, and war-lances in hand, faced the east and the sun-pole, which was from five to six hundred yards away. Ordinarily this group of warriors numbers from fifty to seventy-two hundred men. An interpreter near me estimated the line I beheld as from a thousand to twelve hundred strong. Not far away, on a high hill overlooking the barbaric scene, was an old warrior, a medicine-man of the tribe, I think, whose solemn duty it was to announce by a shout that could be heard by every one of the expectant throng the exact moment when the tip of the morning sun appeared above the eastern hills. Perfect quiet reigned upon the line of young warriors and upon the great throng of savage spectators that blacked the green hills overlooking the arena. Suddenly the old warrior, who had been kneeling on one knee, with his extended palm shading his scraggy eyebrows, arose to his full height, and in a slow, dignified manner waved his blanketed arm above his head. The few warriors who were still unmounted now jumped hurriedly upon their ponies; the broken, wavering line rapidly took on a more regular appearance; and then the old man, who had gathered himself for the great effort, hurled forth a yell that could be heard to the uttermost limits of the great throng. The morning sun had sent its commands to its warriors on earth to charge.

"The shout from the hill was echoed by the thousand men in the valley; it was caught up by the spectators on the hills as the long line of warriors hurried themselves forward towards the sun-pole, the objective point of every armed and naked savage in the yelling line. As they converged towards it the slower ponies dropped out and the weaker ones were crushed to the rear. Nearer and nearer they came, the long line becoming massed until it was but a surging crowd of plunging horses and yelling, gesticulating riders. When the leading warriors had reached a point within a hundred yards of the sun-pole a sharp report of rifles sounded along the line, and a moment later the rushing mass was a sheet of flame, and the rifle-shots were like the rapid beat of a drum resounding among the hills. Every shot, every arrow and every lance was directed at the pole, and bark and chips were flying from its sides like shavings from the rotary bit of a planer. When every bullet had been discharged and every arrow and lance had been hurled the riders crowded around the pole and shouted as only excited savages can shout.

"Had it fallen in this onslaught adoration would have been chosen and another morning devoted to this performance. Though this seldom happens, it was thought that the numerous assaults of this pole might bring it to the ground. They did not, however, although it looked like a ragged scarecrow, with chips and bark hanging from its mutilated sides.

"That such a vast, tumultuous throng could escape accident in all that wild charging, firing of shots, hurling of lances and arrows and great excitement would be bordering on a miracle, and no miracle happened. One of the great warriors was trampled upon in the charge and died late that evening, and another Indian was shot. The braves, spinning and cuts that might have been spoken of in lesser affairs were here unnoticed, and nothing was heard of them."

Wanted to Save Their Neck.

The most comical mishap that ever befell a fire engine occurred recently at Toledo. The noise of an approaching fire apparatus startled a sixty-five-year-old countryman and his wife as they were making their way along the sidewalk. To grab his wife's green umbrella and rush into the middle of the street directly in the path of the oncoming steeds was the work of a moment for the excited farmer. His gyrations and shouting brought the horses to a sudden stop. The fire ladders drove off awestruck. The crowd cheered the old fellow as he returned to the sidewalk, muttering: "Farcical fools, let me run away if they want to. I'll never risk my life to save their necks again."

He Sat on the Fire.

A householder discovered that a spark from a neighboring conflagration had fallen upon his own slightly slanting roof and had set fire to the shingles. All the buckets and tubs had gone to the big fire and there was no one to send after them, even had there been time for such a measure; but the man was equal to the emergency. He rushed to a pond near by and deliberately sat down in the water. To run upstairs and open the roof was the work of a moment, and then he "sat on" the fire in more senses than one.

HE MARCHED WITH SHERMAN,

A few bottles worked a change; six months continued use cured him. Always too independent to ask his country for a pension, he now says he needs none. He helped save his country, he saved himself!
